Chaos, disconnect, liberation and deconstruction. Oh, and not oppression. Occurrences following emergence from the silos. Ten DC artists take 6 weeks to collaborate across mediums and genres to bring you creative ruminations on the theme of freedom. District Calling: Freedom dissolves traditional artistic categorizations by encouraging a mingling of diverse styles of expression. Free Five Dollars from the confines of your pocket. Let yourself out of mental prison for 60 minutes. We'd like you to get deep with us. Not too deep. Just deep enough.

Gratefully Sponsored by the District of Columbia Commission of the Arts and Humanities and Massey Media.
