DC area women if your vagina could speak what would it say?

Yoni Ki Baat (talk of the vagina) is a South Asian American interpretation of the Vagina Monologues. This show was initially performed by the South Asian Sisters in Berkeley, California. The show has been produced at the University of Michigan, Rutgers, Chicago, and in other cities. Saheli 2 Saheli would like to bring to you a completely original show. We believe that DC women are ready to speak out about their bodies, sexualities, and yes, their yonis. (yoni= vagina in Sanskrit)

We would like to thank the Asian/Pacific Islander Domestic Violence Resource Project (DVRP) for their generous support! Proceeds from our show will benefit DVRP in the Washington, D.C. area.
