

SeeNoSun OnStage presents
Terre Haute

by Edmund White
directed by Michael Wright
July 8 – 25
Thursday – Sunday at 7:30pm
$15

Part of the 2010 Capital Fringe Festival.

Tickets available through www.seenosun.com or www.capfringe.org.

Inspired by the essays Gore Vidal wrote for Vanity Fair about his correspondence with Timothy McVeigh, this drama imagines a series of death row encounters between characters firmly based on the acclaimed novelist and the man convicted and executed for bombing the Oklahoma City Federal Building. The clock ticks as a strangely flirtatious connection between these diverse men evolves when they discover a common belief that the federal government is trampling freedoms enshrined in the Constitution. SeeNoSun OnStage presents the Washington, DC premier of Terre Haute for the 2010 Capital Fringe Festival.