Orbit Chef's 'Holiday Buffet' is a rollicking multi-form smorgasbord of laugh-out-loud holiday fun! The show— part sketch-comedy, part stand-up and storytelling— is an absurd take on the traditions and symbols that define the Season. See what happens when Santa turns his workshop into a full-time coal plant and an office gift exchange gets a little too personal... Find out who killed Rudolph and how to deal with party-pooing holiday naysayers! With performances from humorists plucked from DC's vibrant stand-up and spoken-word communities. Orbit Chef is a sketch-comedy troupe founded in 2011. They recently completed their first season as a featured act in The Comedy Spot's (Arlington, VA) Tiger's Blood Theater show, a bi-monthly mash-up of improv, stand-up, and sketch-comedy performers. The ensemble includes Matt Fogarty, Derek Hills, Kate Schuler, Stephanie Svec, and Amelia Vogel, all graduates of the Washington Improv Theater's improv training and sketch-writing curricula and veteran members of DC's theater, storytelling, and comedy communities.
