Jeff Hughes, creator and producer of the widely popular Happy Buddha variety show series, has teamed up with local improv mainstays Jive Turkey for what will most assuredly be a wild weekend of comedy! On Friday, April 26th, The Jivers perform two shows along with the plucky young scamps of So Political, the gut-bustingly funny Nox, the surreal comedic stylists Sistine Robot, and legendary iPod improvisers The Score! We're calling it Jive Turkey Presents!

On Saturday April 27th, the fun comes in twos. The turkeys perform in a special 2x2x2 show along with two of the other most dynamic duos of the local improv scene: Topher and Joe and Shawn Mikael(s).

Each show is sure to be great! The list of people to buy their Buddha Show tickets only to miss the fun is long, so don't be that poor soul who has to see all the posts about what happened on Facebook! Buy your tickets today!
