NIGHTFALL with Edgar Allan Poe

November 6-9, 13-16, & 20-23

December 4-7

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at 7:30 PM

$25 General/ $22 for DCAC Members

Was Poe insane or psychically tormented? From the author of “The Velocity of Autumn,” this play dramatizes four of Poe’s best known works: “The Raven,” “The Fall of the House of Usher,” “The Pit and the Pendulum,” and “The Tell-Tale Heart.” Classic horror is brought to the stage, as only Molotov Theatre Group can.

Director: Mark Kamie; Composer: Gregory Thomas Woolford Martin

Starring Adam R. Adkins, Jen Bevan, Yoni Gray, Elliott Kashner, Matthew Marcus, and Stacy Whittle

Approximately 80 minutes, with no intermission.

Every Thursday is Pay What You Can
