

IN YOUR EAR

December 18

Sunday at 3 pm

$5 General/ FREE for DCAC Members

Each month In Your Ear features reading and performances by different sets of poets who draw on an avant-garde tradition. This month features readings by J.K. Daniels, Kelly Chick, and Camoghne Felix. Curated by Meg Ronan and Tony Mancus.

More information at: dcpoetry.com/iye

J.K. Daniels's poems have appeared in Queer South, Best New Poets, Calyx, The New Orleans Review, Beltway Poetry Quarterly, and elsewhere. Her first book, Wedding Pulls, was selected by C.D. Wright for the New Southern Voices Poetry Prize (2015) and published by Hub City Press (2016). She is a professor at Northern Virginia Community College, where she is on a hiatus from teaching creative writing and American Lit as she explores the dark side of academia as interim dean. She reads for The Northern Virginia Review.

Kelly Chick is a visual artist currently based in Baltimore, MD. Utilizing both darkroom photography and writing, Kelly's work explores anxiety and the quest for the resolution of the mind. Kelly graduated from the Corcoran College of Art + Design with a BFA in Photography in 2015.